

i support XM radio. You should not be trying to legislate and regulate a service which i pay for, its a choice i made and should not be limited by someone in competition with the other service. if you would like to legislate something, try an antitrust suit on Clearchannel and the crap they spread all over the country.